Diocese of Fall River

Seventy-fifth annual Catholic Charities Appeal exceeds previous year by nearly $100,000

Once again the faithful of the Fall River Diocese have responded with extraordinary generosity. The Vatican Year of Mercy was the backdrop for this year's Catholic Charities Appeal and the final result was another record amount to fund the social ministries of the diocese.

Bishop Edgar M. da Cunha, S.D.V., asked us to keep our neighbors in mind and we responded magnificently! The simple declarative, "It's what we do," was borne out again for a record-setting degree of generosity for the 75th Catholic Charities Appeal.

The books have closed on the 2016 Catholic Charities Appeal for the Diocese of Fall River, and the results were more than $4,632,000!

The total was the highest in the 75-year history of the Appeal. This total was more than $97,000 above last year's record which increased by $300,000. This means that Bishop da Cunha's first two years have meant an increase of more than $400,000.

Although figures for the number of donors in each of the 82 parishes are not yet complete, it appears that more than 32,000 individuals and businesses were moved to support the diocese. The Appeal proved compelling enough to inspire sacrificial giving once again.

"We are enormously grateful for the hard work and week-by-week advocacy that our pastors and parish leaders put into this annual Appeal," said Jim Campbell of the Catholic Charities Appeal Office. "Without their example and the strong message of encouragement from our bishop we would have far less success."

The results of the Appeal showed some amazing accomplishments across the diocese. Forty-four parishes had increases over last year's Appeal total, with seven parishes exceeding 20 percent increases, and two more than 40 percent.

"I believe there are several factors that distinguish our Appeal in the mind of our donors," continued Campbell. "This year Bishop da Cunha narrated each video in three languages, bringing a personal touch that matters to many of our faithful. We also used social media and the Internet more than ever before to spread our message. There is genuine respect for the work being done on behalf of the poor by the Diocese of Fall River in meeting the needs of those to whom it ministers. The agencies and apostolates are well-received and highly regarded in their communities. Also our pastors are the most important link in connecting Catholic Social Teaching with the imperative to help. Lastly, we are very proud of the sound stewardship which has always been a benchmark of the Appeal."

Bishop da Cunha, as he reflected on this wonderful result, commented: "I am so proud of our priests and the lay leaders in every parish who worked so diligently on behalf of the poor. These results, despite the recent initiation of parish assessments, indicate that the well of generosity is deep and plentiful among our people. The response of a great number of people, parishes, and businesses in the Diocese of Fall River to our annual Appeal demonstrates an abiding love of neighbor expressed in prayer and action."
